A BRIGHT SPOT AT SUFFOLK HIGH!

Dedicated, hardworking, fun loving, and Suffolk's teacher of the year, all describe the dynamo that S.H.S. knows as Mrs. Vera Bright.

As academic advisor to the basketball team, the basketball players often look to her for pregame spirit and advise.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays since early September, she can be found "haunting" the auditorium supervising the cheerleaders. She joins in Suffolk High fun and spirit, as she could be seen during homecoming in red and white pajamas, and declaring herself the MOST DIFFICULT English teacher in print on her red and white shirt.

As head senior sponsor, she exemplifies dignity. She takes her place among the faculty on graduation day only after having checked each senior's garb before the Pomp and Circumstance march.

Mrs. Bright is special to Suffolk High School, because she cares about her work, she takes pride in her accomplishments, and most of all she cares about her students as individuals.

Mrs. Bright dons her red and white "jammies" during spirit week.

Jeff "Baxter" Ardelji visits Mrs. Bright at the senior concession stand.

Ashley Alston, S.H.S. mini cheerleader, tells Mrs. Bright a joke as she listens intently.

Suffolk High School Alma Mater

Suffolk forever, her flame shall never die Fight for her colors;
We'll raise them to the sky.
Each loyal son pledges his heart and hand; for her, united we as brothers stand.

S.H.S. Cheerleaders join arms in leading the student body in singing "Suffolk Forever."

"A DIFFERENT APPROACH"

What do you get when you combine one inexperienced advisor, and ten enthusiastic students? A yearbook that is distinctively different.

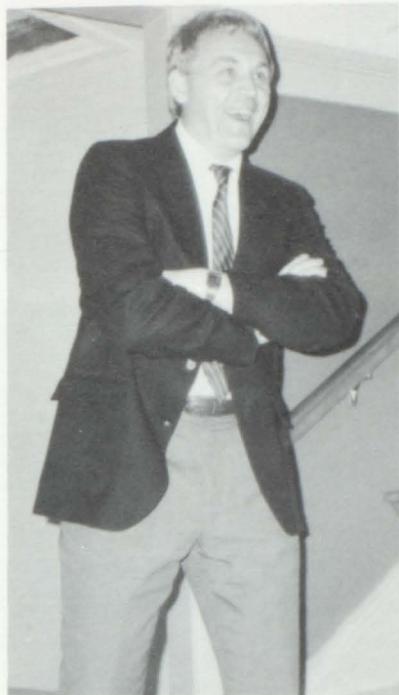

Throughout this year, we have attended workshops, drawn layouts, written copy, and taken pictures until we have produced the best possible product. Add to all the work, our Friday night pizza and burger meetings, and our weekend calls to 97 STAR "Goodnight Hampton Roads", and we have created pandemonium while daring to be different.

As we the staff look at these pages, we will remember the hard work and fun we have had this past year. As you share this book with us enjoy our attempt at giving you a totally different approach.

MARVELOUS MR. D. !

Mr. D. shows his enthusiasm during a pep rally !

Our principal is perhaps the most unique of Suffolk. He will listen to our problems, buy our products, and even arrange rides home for those of us who are in need.

On the lighter side, he is the first to put the "whoosh" in the hello cheer during pep rallies, and dances with the junior and senior girls at the prom. His laughter echoes throughout the halls of S.H.S., and every morning he takes the time to greet most of us by name before the tardy bell rings at 8:06. We feel our Mr. D. is one in a million!

JUDICIAL MR. JONES !

Problems? Referral? There is only one man to see and that is our assistant principal, Mr. J.E. Jones. Along with issuing justice for all, Mr. Jones also keeps track of books, lunch tickets, and locker combinations along with state required forms.

Although his smiles are few and far between, one can be sure that if he receives one it is for a job well done.

If not for Mr. Jones, S.H.S. would not run as smoothly. You are second to none Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones gives the photographer one of his rare smiles.

OUR GUIDING LIGHT

Within the cubby holes of S.H.S. are two rooms that are the dwelling of two very special people, Fran Alwood and John Fuller. Mrs. Alwood and Mr. Fuller spend countless hours scheduling students for the oncoming year, along with patiently listening to personal problems students may have. They seem to always have time to point us toward the light whether we are college bound, or in the market for employment. We are exceptionally fortunate to have Mrs. Alwood and Mr. Fuller as part of the S.H.S. family.

OUR FRIENDLY, COURTEOUS OFFICE PERSONNEL ARE EAGER TO SERVE YOU !

AT 8:00 A.M. it is hard to find an alert, smiling face, unless you are entering the S.H.S. office. There you will find Mrs. Woodard and Mrs. Jones already beginning a day of activity. When not answering phones, or calling students to the office over the intercom, our secretaries fill their day with completing work for Mr. D. and Mr. Jones. They are also a students' sounding board for personal troubles. They lend lunch money, and give phone privileges. Our secretaries help make S.H.S. one of the most friendly schools in Suffolk.

INVESTING IN OUR FUTURE

AUTO REPAIR CLASS

Alvin Sugarman Hall demonstrates knowledge on engine repair.

Spending only a half of day at S.H.S. is not the easiest schedule a student could ask for, especially if the other three periods are spent at P.D. Pruden Vo-Tech Center. S.H.S. students along with peers from the other three high schools in Suffolk, and also students from Smithfield ride the bus each day to help prepare themselves for the future they have chosen.

P.D. Pruden offers a variety of courses ranging from electrician, welder, or auto repair which is dominated mainly by males, to the ever popular cosmetology program which fills to the brim each fall.

Students attending the Vo-tech program invest in themselves, but they also place themselves in a situation of sacrifice. P.M. Vo-tech students miss all pep rallies, and A.M. students miss all morning assemblies. They must also lose a period out of their day for travel time to and from the center.

Each graduating student, however, is ready for the job market. Their chances of winning employment immediately after graduation are highly successful thanks to the Vo-tech program.

COSMETOLOGY CLASS

Pacline Justin and Kartisa Darden
Linda Moseley, Angie Cornett, Neenah Gay, Chrissy Goldsmith

CONSTRUCTION II CLASS

Richard Wyatt puts finishing touches on a door jam on the Vo-tech house which is sold each year.

DATA PROCESSING CLASS

Charnita Stokes and LaSonya Thornton work on a word processing program.

THE LIFE . . "

What gorgeous prom attire, Lamont.

Amber, you look like you just got out of bed !

CANDID FUN AT S.H.S.

Angie "checks" out the guys before class.

Ain't we sweet? Myron Hunt, Maritza Adams, Travis "Red" Whitehead and Dennis Gatling strut their stuff on opposite sex day.

What in the world, Chrissy? Don't you have your yearbook pages finished yet?

Prom. What Prom???

They are the people to follow. The leaders of tomorrow. They are the officers of the classes of '89, '90, '91, '92. For many classes, to qualify to be a class officer, candidates had to file petitions, obtain teacher recommendations, and pay class dues in advance in addition to having a passing average in all classes. This provided the best possible leadership for the student body in general.

THEY'RE NOT BORED

In the early fall, and again in the warmth of the spring air an unrecognized team of boys arises in the parking lot and on the sidewalks of S.H.S. This team can be seen shoving skateboards into their lockers before 8:00 A.M., and pulling them out again just after the 2:15 bell rings. Although S.H.S. has no official skateboard team we can boast some of the best in the entire Tide-water area.

During fall competition held at SCAT Bicycle Shop, our skating Raiders made a good showing with Baron Robertson winning second place overall. Participants Andy Dent, Kevin "Booger" Bullock, Paul Bass, Bobby perhaps the next skating capital of the world as well. Although this team of guys will never win a sports letter or school trophy for their endeavors we still recognize them as part of the S.H.S. sports family. Good Going Guys!

Baron executes an "Airwalk" during Scat competition.

Kevin "Booger" Bullock does a mute air.

Andy is in good form as he does a backside air.

Paul looks intent as he completes a Japan air.

THIS IS OUR YEAR TO R E A L L Y SHINE. WE'RE THE CLASS OF '89.

Senioritis. .Lunch tables for seniors only..being able to cut the lunch line..protesting the new delivery date for the yearbook. .ordering caps, gowns, and graduation announcements-all this has kept the class of '89 hard at work.

Looking back and watching varsity cheerleaders paint their last spirit sign, senior athletes giving their all, and then some to end their four years at S.H.S. with determination of winning not only for personal victory, but school victory as well brings tears of parting, smiles of remembrance, and anticipation of the world that lies beyond these walls.

the best, We work harder than the rest.

One word characterizes the junior year-Rings! They make the junior year totally different from any other. This year the ordering and anticipation of ring delivery led to mounted excitement as the Josten's representative was late in arriving. The line of juniors reached from the front steps to the A.P.I. office when the jewelry finally was distributed. The next several days were spent turning rings for good luck.

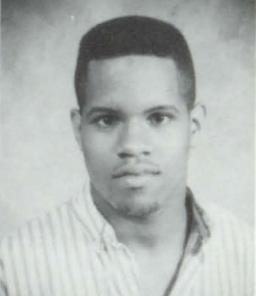

We also encountered prom expenses. After fundraising for our entire sophomore year, we found ourselves peddling candy, chips, and doughnuts, not to mention working concessions at the basketball games and selling peanuts at the football games.

As we look back over our junior year, we can feel pride at a job well done and we await with anticipation our turn amid the ivy and roses.

ALL THE WAY FROM HAMBURG, WEST GERMANY!

From a city with a population of six million people, Christine Witthoft came to the "small town" of Suffolk, Virginia. She became interested in the Foreign Exchange Student Program after meeting an American Exchange student to Germany. Some of Christine's friends were applying and out of curiosity she applied too.

Upon arriving at Suffolk High, Christine became active in Girl's volleyball, basketball, tennis, peer facilitators, academic team, and F.B.L.A. Other than these activities she spends her time studying for school and traveling with Mrs. and Mr. Alwood. She has visited Washington D.C., Maryland, New York, and Florida. "I really like the United States," she comments.

It's easy to see that anyone moving to a foreign country would have plenty of adjustments to make. Christine says that coming to the U.S. has helped her become more independent and has taught her more about herself and her home in Germany. The transition from the big city of Hamburg to a smaller area like Suffolk has been rewarding. Christine has grown to know her teachers and other people better.

At her school in Germany she takes anywhere from four to eight classes. The students stay in basically one classroom, while the teachers change for different subjects. Compared with American schools, she says school back home is much harder. In preparation for college, German teenagers attend school for thirteen years and then go on to a University after the thirteenth grade.

One of the reasons

Christine likes it so much in Suffolk is that she enjoys the extracurricular activities. "We have no yearbooks, class rings or proms." Studies and college preparation are very important to the Germans.

Life for the typical German teen differs little from that of the American teen, except that "they don't eat as much fast food" as we do! Teens in Germany are more "in tune with cultural experiences" such as theater and visiting museums, close friendships, and family ties are two important values of the German teenagers. Chris states that prior to her arrival in the U.S., she thought "there would be a bunch of crazy people running around." To her surprise, there were only small differences between the people of Germany and the United States.

Christine's plans for the future are to finish school and attend a university back in Germany. Some of her career interests include business, economics, or being a translator in a foreign country. Chris is very grateful to the Alwoods for their hospitality and is glad for the opportunity to visit the United States. She leaves us with one thought "Auf wiederssehen, es war ganz toll hier!"

"Goodbye, It was a great time!"

SOPHOMORES

We are known for having fun, we're the class of '91.

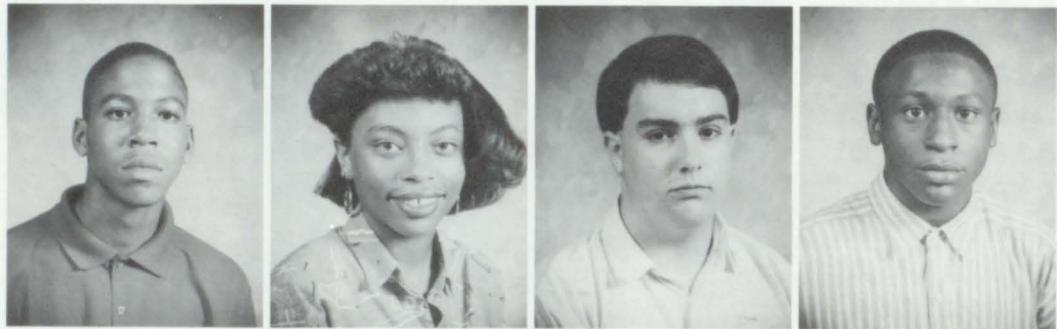

What characterizes the sophomore year? Doughnut selling, Doughnut unloading, Doughnut delivery and doughnut eating.

Sophomores are no longer blind to the traditions that seem to surround Suffolk High. We're doing our best to live up to the Raider name and history. Even though we're known to be on the wild side at times, we know when to get down to work, which was proven when we tied for first place in the homecoming hall decorating contest with the juniors, and outsold them during the fall doughnut fundraiser. We provided the ivy and roses for senior day, and transformed the front of S.H.S. into a pathway for our graduating seniors.

No we can't forget that we're still lower classmen, but we won't forget that we're one step and one year closer to the top of the ladder!

FRESHMEN

Here we are we're trudging through, We're the class of '92!

Orientation, losing our way, and being "booed" at pep rallys have marked our first year at S.H.S.

Through our stumbling, we the "little people" have learned and matured as the year has progressed.

No longer do we feel apart from the rest of the school. Although we won third place in the hall decoration contest at homecoming, we rallied and won the spirit link contest twice during the year. We may be the youngest class at S.H.S., but we are also the most enthusiastic.

Freshman Frolics

Did you forget something ladies?

The UNKNOWN freshman

Grace works hard on yearbook promotion.

Hey babe, nice legs!

WE ARE

They can be seen throughout the halls of S.H.S. dressed in red and white uniforms. During the Christmas season the bells on their shoes carry the yuletide joy throughout S.H.S. halls. These sixteen girls coached by Mrs. Vera Bright comprise the Raider Spirit Seekers.

Last May tryouts were held to pick enthusiastic, spirited girls to fill the positions on the cheerleading squad. Since then long hours of practicing were spent to maintain and uphold the reputation of the S.H.S. squad.

The girls have practiced and decorated their hearts out. They organized Mr. Varsity and Mr. Junior Varsity for basketball season, and during football homecoming week they held the Mr. Homecoming contest.

Throughout the year they also held fundraising drives to help sponsor their trip to the boy's basketball state championships.

Our cheerleaders have shared their spirit with us, created spirit within us, and cheered our teams on to victory.

How different are we?

During the hot and humid days of July and August, 1988 yearbookers started out selling ads to local businesses. The $2500. total collected in ads is more than any other recent year. With the proceeds from the ads and our successful donut sale last fall, we've launched the most exciting yearbook in Suffolk High's history.

We are a small but dedicated staff composed of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors under the leadership of Mrs. Ardelji.

Drawing layouts, computerizing each page, meeting each deadline with moments to spare, and learning to appreciate each member's viewpoint has been a learning experience. We've tried our best to share the 1988/89 school year with you and we sincerely hope you love the yearbook, and appreciate us "Daring to be Different."

Although the Raiders were not mighty in wins during the '88-89 football season they rated number one in the hearts of S.H.S. fans.

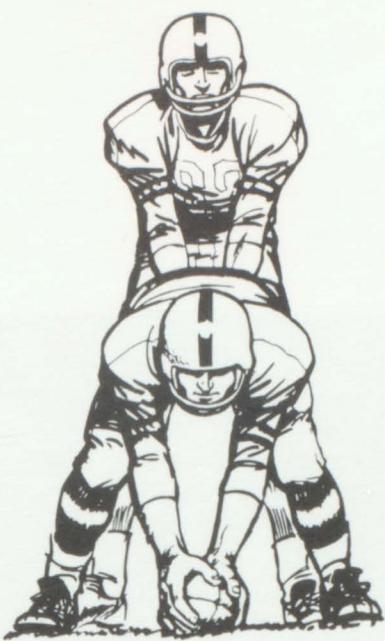

After losing the first three games of the season, the Raider adrenalin started pumping, and they rallied during their fourth game against New Cumberland. The winning streak lasted through the next four games as they defeated Essex, Nandua, Chincoteague and Surry County.

Sussex County and Winsor rounded out the football roster as one loss and a win. No matter how the scores read the team never gave up, always kept the Raider spirit, and gave Coach Ward and S.H.S. their best.

RAIDER

Upon being announced queen, Sharon Goodman received her homecoming crown from Mr. Debranski, principal at Suffolk High. The crowning culminated a week long celebration of homecoming events which included spirit week and the crowning of Mr. Football as well.

The homecoming game proved to be a victorious one as the Raiders defeated Nandua. Students and fans shared the enthusiasm and cheered the team to victory.

After the game, students attended the annual homecoming dance in the S.H.S. cafeteria to celebrate the victory, and the end of the Week of Tribal Warfare.

DUNK IT TONY !

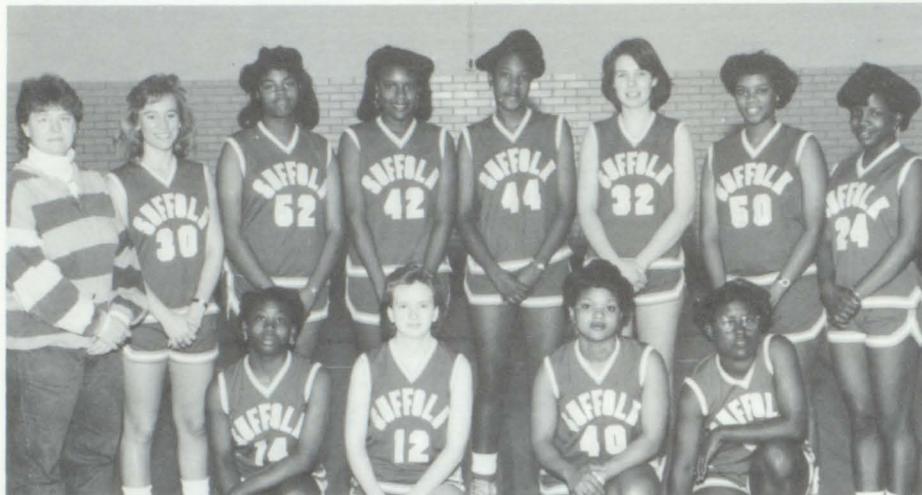

Jump Ball, Jump Ball get it -get it ! Mo Cheeks reaches high to tap the ball to his team mates.

Thou shall not score, and score they did not as our Red Raiders finished another successful basketball season. Our team coached by John Fuller kept the wolf at bay shutting out every other team in the Blackwater District. With a record of 25-0, the mighty Raiders trudged on to the state finals held in Charlottesville. Here the agony of defeat was realized as Suffolk once again was defeated by the Flying Flucos of Fluvanna.

LADY RAIDERS SHOOT FOR THE TOP!

Dedication and Teamwork were the key words for the girls basketball team. Although the season was not a winning one the girls never lacked enthusiasm for the sport. The teams' hard work earned them the position of third in the District.

VOLLEYING UNTIL THE END

The Lady Raider volleyball team has had a successful season if not a winning one. Skill, patience, and dedication for the sport was evident throughout the season. Although our team did not finish in the winner's circle we did have the opportunity to host the state volleyball championships. Here our team showed true S.H.S. sportsmanship, as they hosted the other teams from throughout the state and provided lunch and spirit to give encouragement.

Mary Miller, Dora Butler, and Laura Hill have worked very hard this year, and have accomplished many goals. The team practiced mostly at Birdsong Recreation Center, in Franklin, and occasionally at Gymnastics Incorporated in Hampton, Virginia.

The Team traveled to New Kent for the Regional Competition where Mary placed fifth all around and also in bars, floor exercises, and the vault. Laura placed first in the uneven bars, balance beam, and floor exercises. Laura placed fourth place for the state. Dora placed third on the vault, fourth on the bars, balance beam and the floor exercise to capture fourth all around. This gave the team the edge it needed to qualify for state competition. The highlight for the Suffolk High Gymnastics team was the trip to the state competitions in Reston, Virginia. The team came in fifth place overall. Our gymnastics team has helped roll S.H.S. on to one more victory!

ALL FOR THE LOVE OF THE GAME

S.H.S. LADY RAIDER TENNIS TEAM

1988-89 BOY'S TENNIS TEAM

The girl's tennis team had an exceptional 1988-89 season. The six woman team consisting of Susan Jones, Lynell Baker, Christine Witchoft, Christine Goldsmith, Emily Knick, and Laura Hill smashed their way to numerous victories. Practice makes perfect and Coach Debbie Ford began practice late in February and continued throughout the season. It paid off as S.H.S. girls will possibly achieve number one standing in the the Blackwater District.

The S.H.S. guys team consists of Paul Bass, Doug Warner, Garren Brown, Bobby Brooks, Kevin Bullock , Nathan Hill, Jeffrey Melkerson, and Monte Gilcrest. Garren Brown and Nathan Hill pairing during doubles matches have had outstanding success. Both teams with the support of their coaches have shown S.H.S. pride and spirit.

SPECIAL TO S.H.S.

The special olympics team consisting of David Powell and Lorraine Savage attended several meets during the '88-89 school year. Not only did this team compete in the bowling tournament held during the first semester, but they carried home several medals during the spring track and field meet. During each competition the student body was assured that both David and Lorraine would lead S.H.S. to victory!

NEVER SAY DIE

The 1989 season was S.H.S.'s first for organized soccer. Although our losses greatly outweighed our wins, our team spirit highly qualified us as a winning team. We began and ended our season without uniforms, but our spirits were not dampered. We played and practiced in the cold and rain due to the long winter. Our players showed dedication and they played at times even though injured. Kevin Beale refused to quit, and re-entered the game against John Yeates even though he had a possible concussion. Hats off to our soccer team who never said die, no matter what the odds!

1988-89 S.H.S. SOCCER TEAM

ON THE BALL !

THE 1988-89 LADY RAIDER SOFTBALL TEAM

The softball team was batting a thousand this year in spirit and team effort. Even though our record wasn't major league material we managed to stick together during fouls as well as homeruns. The season was a lot of hard work but everyone on the team will agree that it was well worth it

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Several members of the S.H.S. student body are running toward a goal. The members of the track team have been in fine form this year. Practice began at the beginning of March from 3:00-4:00 P.M. each day.

The season began the beginning of April, and the brother-sister team of Faith and Sam Brownell have had a strong showing this year. Seniors Quineke Harper, Brian Williams, and Ron Mason have led our team to victory time after time. Our team will sprint to an excellent future with the return of other team members such as Anne Caton and freshman, India Hargett.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

SHS ACADEMIC TEAM Tim Thosen, Scott Sherad, Grace Bass, Jennifer Irby, Coach Cavender, DJ Jones, Christine Withoft.

Hardworking and persistent would best describe the academic team this year. Every Tuesday and Thursday from November through February they arrived at 7:00 A.M. to practice with Coach Bonnie Cavender. Their record of 4-2 showed that practice makes near perfect as the team qualified for the regional meet and placed second in the Blackwater District.

A TOUCH OF CLASS !

Her Royal Highness Stephanie Garland and her escort Chris Slade

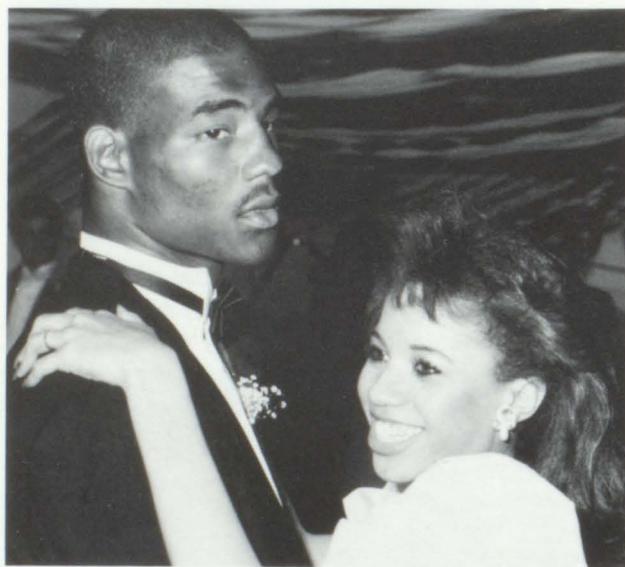

During the first week of May, Juniors, after two full years of fundraising, slowly began to transform Birdsong Recreation Center into a paradise for upperclassmen and their dates.

At approximately 8:00 P.M. on May 5, 1989, the upperclassmen and their escorts began arriving in gowns and tuxedoes, and entered the gym with "A Touch of Class." Under a ceiling of red, white, and black streamers this year's Juniors and Seniors danced to the hits of the past and present with music provided by Savannah.

Lynell Baker and Stephanie Garland were crowned queens of the prom, while Garren Brown served as king of the evening.

At 10:30, the class of '91, dressed in red, white, and black outfits and donning top hats, provided entertainment in the form of a rock 'n roll music history.

The culmination of the evening left smiles on the faces of the juniors and seniors, and a very tired Mrs. Morris in the lobby.

A CLASS ACT !

HAIL TO THE CLASS OF '89 . . .

With a definite threat of pending rain, the sophomores cautiously began to decorate the front steps in honor of the class of '89. As the eleventh of May continued, Mr. D., could be seen in jeans, scouting Suffolk with a variety of '91 class members looking for ivy and roses.

The final decorating touches were added at 7:00 A.M., May 12, as senior class members arrived dressed in white. As they marched down the ivy and rose covered stairs, and toward the flagpole, smiles of pride, and tears of uncertainty flowed.

The senior skit consisted of where class members would be ten years from now, and included Craig Bullock as a priest, Scott Sherard as a pro basketball player, Amber Tatman as Chubby (?), and a very stylish outfit of prison stripes sported by Sam Brownell.

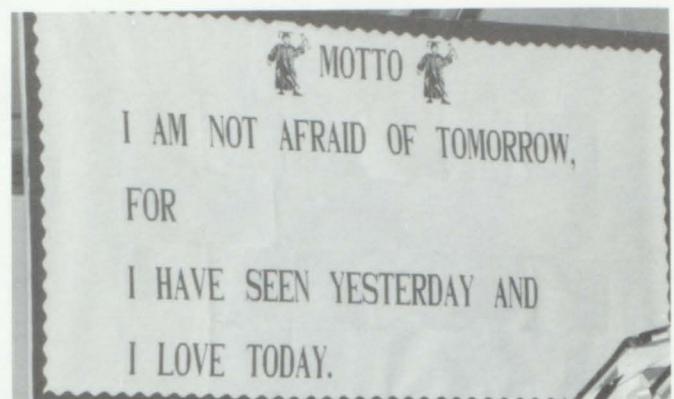

Awards were plentiful, and after the senior song, "Forever Friends", seniors left for a free afternoon.

With their student lives finished at S.H.S., the class of '89 can reflect on their four years past with a sense of accomplishment.

Senior class president Ilona Taylor, and vice-president Garren Brown walk through the archway on the way to their seats.

Is this what we can expect you to be wearing ten years from now, Sam?

The class of '89's motto was submitted by Charlene Williams.

Scott Sherard and Kevin Beale fold the senior flag.

Lavette Whitfield and Susan Jones walk down the S.H.S. steps on their way to the flagpole.

The image features a continuous, diagonal repeating pattern of the word "Eighty Nine". The text is rendered in a bold, sans-serif font and is rotated approximately 45 degrees clockwise. The colors of the text vary across the pattern, creating a vibrant, abstract design. The colors include yellow, green, blue, purple, black, red, orange, and pink. The pattern is set against a plain white background.
